

Dawn Hillen

Dawn has been on the permanent faculties of some of the largest dance studios in NYC for more than 35 years: Alvin Ailey Extension, Ballet Arts, Broadway Dance Center, & Steps on Broadway. She has taught master classes and performed with dance companies across the United States including Lincoln Center in NYC and in Europe as well as performing on the theatrical stage and in independent films. She is currently teaching and choreographing new ballets for the young artists at the Alvin Ailey Professional Performing Arts School in NYC. Best wishes to all the wonderful dancers attending this summer's DMA convention!
