

Kerry Ring, Clinical Associate Professor of Dance at the University at Buffalo, is a choreographer who creates works with various levels of collaborative investigation, teaches ballet and modern dance techniques, and has directed dance concerts at UB for the past 10 years. She received her BFA in Dance at the University of New Mexico and her MFA in Choreography from Mills College in Oakland, CA. Kerry is core faculty for Dance Master's of America, certified in Ultra Barre, Kriya Yoga and the Cecchetti Method. For more information visit: kerryaring.com